

Dr. Steven Mulligan

Clinician, teacher and researcher from South
Yorkshire, U.K.

Dr. Steven Mulligan is a clinician, teacher and researcher based in South Yorkshire, U.K. He is a founding member of the FDI World Dental Federation's Sustainability in Dentistry Task Team which aims to provide guidance to improve sustainability throughout the entire dental supply chain (from manufacturing, via distribution, through clinical use and disposal). In this role, he has co-authored an industry ratified Consensus Statement on environmental sustainability in oral healthcare and developed a toolkit for clinicians. He has published extensively on the topic of environmental sustainability in dentistry and is a peer reviewer for multiple journals. He is an international speaker and key opinion leader to GSK, P&G, SDCEP and the FDI World Dental Federation.